*Blue Diamond Atatürk Palas^{GL} is one of the most traditional and historic hotels in Bursa. It was built in 1935 at one of the more privileged locations of the district under the personal management of Mustafa Kemal Atatürk himself, father and founder of the Turkish Republic.

After some renovation work in 2007, the Blue Diamond Bursa Palace^{} was given a complete makeover in 2010.*

The hotel has 23 supreme luxury rooms, including suites. Throughout much of the 20th century, influential aristocrats and world-renowned politicians have stayed at the hotel.

Guests staying at the hotel can avail of distinctive services that are difficult to match in other part of the country. A butler welcomes guests to their rooms with top quality fresh juices and refreshments, and they can also check-in from the room itself.

ROOMS

All the rooms and suites offer 360° panoramic views of Bursa or the famous Atatürk Museum with the breathtaking Uludag Mountain in the background. Of the hotel's 23 rooms, 8 of them are extra special suites divided into the following categories: King Suites with names like Atatürk and Elizabeth Taylor and the Executive Suites named after Zsa Zsa Gabor, Katharine Hepburn, Audrey Hepburn, Farah Diba, Princess Soraya and Princess Noor.

All the rooms have a plasma TV, Wi-Fi, a minibar, safe with an electronic lock, hairdryer and amenities, central heating and air-conditioning, telephone and 24-hour room service.
